

WELLS ELECTED TREASURER; BREAKING G. O. P. MONOPOLY

Young Lawyer of Prince George County Honored by Voters.

The election of C. A. M. Wells, of the firm of Wells, Hoover & Wells, counsel for Mrs. Anna Bradley, to the position of county treasurer of Prince George county, Md., has at last broken the long string of Republican victories won by R. N. Ryan, the former incumbent. Another fact of interest connected with Mr. Wells' victory is the fact that while his opponent has been in politics for a dozen years, the treasurer-elect has never before run for office.

Mr. Wells is a graduate of Georgetown College, and also of the law school. He received his degree of A. B. at the west end institution in 1888, and shortly after received an appointment to West Point, from former Representative Barnes Crampton. The latter's seat was contested by Representative Mudd, who won out and took the West Point appointment away from Mr. Wells on the eve of his departure.

Although greatly disappointed, Mr. Wells settled down to work and took his degree of LL. D. in 1890. He immediately started to practice after passing the bar examination, and five years later took his brother Robert into partnership with him. A few years later George Hoover joined the firm.

When the Democratic nominations for county officers were made Mr. Wells was at the Jamestown Exposition, and since he had done no soliciting for the position he was taken completely by surprise when it was named on the ticket.

"PURE PAINT LAW" RAISES PROTEST
Lawyer Wants States' Paternalism Stopped—Fears Regulated Bed Sheets.

Capital made an indignant protest today in the Supreme Court of the United States against the alleged growing tendency toward paternalism on the part of State legislatures.

Henry L. Stern and Sigmund Zeisler, of Chicago, attorneys for the big paint manufacturers of the country, were attacking the constitutionality of the "pure paint law" of North Dakota. The manufacturers fear that other States will follow North Dakota's lead if the law is not knocked out. The objectionable statute requires the labeling of all paints sold within the State containing anything other than certain specified ingredients.

To hold that such an outrage upon reason and justice, and on the constitutional principles of equality is a valid exercise of the police power, would be to open the flood gates of legislative absolutism," Stern told the court. "Yesterday it was an arbitrary classification of paint."

"Tomorrow some Legislature will ignorantly discriminate against Portland cement, and in favor of the much inferior cement. Day after tomorrow a soap law will be passed. Next day some ignorant legislature will provide that glass, unless made from crushed flint or quartz (as it was exclusively made fifty years ago) must be labeled. "The enactment of such statutes would not be improbable in an age of legislative prodigality which has provided us with regulations of every conceivable subject, including the length of hotel bed sheets and the color of overalls, and would, if it could, regulate the number of pulses beats."

INQUEST TOMORROW OVER WHEELER BODY

There will be an inquest at the District morgue at 11 o'clock tomorrow over the body of William Wheeler, who died in the Emergency Hospital last night from injuries received in a bicycle accident Tuesday. Wheeler was riding a wheel on First street, between D and E streets northwest, when he collided with a street car as it swung around a curve.

The car struck the front wheel of the bicycle, throwing the rider to the pavement. He was taken to the hospital in an unconscious condition.

Wheeler was fifty-five years of age, and lived at 106 E street northwest. He was employed as an engineer at one of the local hotels.

SAIL ON THE MONTAUK DELIGHTED PASSENGER

"I was delighted with my trip to the Jamestown Exposition on the steamer Montauk. The boat is large and commodious and the service excellent," said a lady to a reporter. The Montauk is a new steel steamer of the new Norfolk, Washington and Richmond Steamship Line. It plies between this city, Norfolk and the Jamestown Exposition. The boat leaves Washington every Saturday Tuesday and Thursday at 5 a. m. from Riley's wharf, at the foot of Sixth street southwest.

The return trip is made from Norfolk every Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 5 a. m. The Montauk stops at Old Point and the Jamestown Exposition coming and going.

"Mill ends" of silks
Included with Friday's Remnant Sale
Useful lengths for waists, trimmings, linings, fancy work and other uses.
From the best silk mills in the United States come thousands and thousands of yards of silks that are "mill ends"—that is what's left from full pieces. Silk prices have steadily advanced the past six months. Prices enumerated below are really less than the cost of raw silk, and so varied the widths, lengths, and character of silks that any need can be supplied. Read what follows:

At 5c, 10c, and 15c a piece
Many kinds at this price, embracing almost every kind in the sale, in small pieces about 1 1/2 yards long, all being especially suitable for fancy work.

At 15c and 25c a yard
19-inch goods in lengths 1/2 to 2 1/2 yards. Lot includes silk or cotton-back satins, faille, colored fancy silks, Pongee silks, and Taffetas.

Imported Silks 50c a yard
A splendid lot in plain and fancy effects, representing silks that cost 50c to $1.25 a yard to bring to this country. Lengths are 1/2 to 1 1/2 yds., and you can put these to good use, of course.

36-in. Silks at 25c, 35c and 49c a yard.
Mostly satins and taffetas in black, gray and other plain colors. Those who come early will be able to match pieces.

At 25c, 35c, 45c, a yard
24 and 26-in. Silks and Satins, including a good many blacks. Lengths run from 1 to 2 yards. Lots of colored Satins, Taffetas, and fancy Silks suitable for linings or fancy work.
First floor—Bargain tables.

40c clever sateen lining
1,000 yards—mostly colors, some few blacks.
Surely a brilliant achievement! We can offer tomorrow, a whole lot of 1,000 yards of "Clever" Sateen Lining—which has a world-wide reputation for being the best mercerized sateen on the market today.
Lengths are all good—so useful in fact, that women will find it just as convenient buying these as though selecting from full pieces. Think, too, of the money you save in buying "remnant lengths." We advise you to visit tomorrow to the table containing these linings. There'll be a rush, we are confident—and are you going to be one of the fortunate women? WE HOPE SO.
